

MILENA DIMITROVA

JUNIOR FRONT-END DEVELOPER

PERSONAL PROFILE

I may still be a student, but well underway the professional path. Since my early teens, I knew that computing is where I will shine. From my first experiences with websites in the early 2000's, I developed an avid interest in web development and so my journey began. I decided to push further my skills with coding and web design. I have also added forums, blogs, logos and even a radio show to my portfolio! I like a challenge and always looking for one. I like having my finger in many pies as I like experimenting with new platforms and different designs every time.
